Dear Mr. Berndt,

I want to express my thanks to you for making me a recipient of the TACERA Endowed Scholarship. I am deeply touched by your great generosity and am greatly appreciative of your support.

I am majoring in Civil Engineering and plan on focusing more on the transportation side of civil engineering. I am currently a senior taking classes from early morning to mid afternoon which takes up all my time keeping me from work. This financial assistance you have given me will relieve a huge burden and grant me more time for my studies.

I thank you again for making my schooling so much easier as I can better focus on learning and use my weekends to study. I promise to use this opportunity to make myself a much better engineer in the hopes of being as generous, as you have been to me, to future students.

Sincerely,

Manuel Ramirez

Dear Mr. Berndt,

I am humbled and profoundly grateful for the privilege of being named a recipient of the TACERA Endowed Scholarship in Civil Engineering. Words alone cannot adequately convey the depth of my appreciation. As a soon-to-graduate student, the challenges of financial constraints and the need for relevant work experience can be overwhelming. This scholarship not only provides vital financial support, but it also affirms my commitment to academic excellence and my dedication to achieving my aspirations.

Two of my most cherished ambitions are to provide substantial support for my family and to realize my dream of establishing a successful business. With parents working tirelessly in Mexico to make ends meet, their resources are limited. Their unwavering dedication and sacrifices have brought me within one semester of graduation. In parallel, I am meticulously crafting a plan to leverage my passion for creativity, color, and design to establish an additional income source, my Graphic Design business. The TACERA Endowed Scholarship in Civil Engineering is a beacon of hope, alleviating the financial burdens that might compromise my pursuit of these dreams.

In the realm of education, students often grapple with moments of self-doubt, anxiety, and stress, questioning the worth of their endeavors. However, this scholarship stands as a symbol of faith in my potential, reinforcing my determination to excel in my field and contribute to building a better world. I wish to express my gratitude once more and emphasize that my commitment to honoring your generosity is unwavering. Your support has had a significant impact on my present, and I am dedicated to ensuring it continues to shape my future.

Thank you for believing in me and providing the means to pursue my dreams with confidence.

Sincerely,

Grecia Aida Magdaleno Hernandez
